Hackathon-Project
Global Wallet

It's a hackathon project held at our college, in which my team and I developed this project for the event. It is based on HTML, CSS, JavaScript, MySQL/Workbench, and Java APIs for the backend.

Ongoing College-Project
Easy-HomeLand

- Developing a full-stack web application for managing land and property listings as part of a college hackathon.
- Currently working on the frontend using HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, creating a responsive and user-friendly interface.
- Backend RESTful APIs in Java and MySQL database design are planned to handle user authentication, listings, and database operations.
- Collaborating with a team to integrate frontend and backend components as development progresses.
